

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
August 1, 2011

Contact: Julie Hain
Conference & Events Manager
609.689.1051 x314
julie@sculpture.org

THE INTERNATIONAL SCULPTURE CENTER ANNOUNCES ISConnects: QUESTIONS, COLLABORATIONS, CONVERSATIONS

(Hamilton, NJ) The International Sculpture Center (ISC) is proud to announce an exciting new collaborative series of educational programs entitled, ISConnects.

ISConnects is an exciting collaborative effort between the International Sculpture Center and organizations around the globe to create events that explore questions and unique perspectives on sculpture in the contemporary art world. The programs will provide unique perspectives on the most cutting-edge, timely trends in sculpture, with topics and speakers that address the unique, shared interests of sculptors, collectors and institutions that support contemporary sculpture.

Together, the ISC and its partner organizations offer an ever-evolving series of intimate, accessible programs that address cutting-edge, timely trends in sculpture through lively and insightful discourse.

Organizations such as the Museum of Arts & Design, Grounds For Sculpture, Moore College of Art & Design, and Princeton University, to name a few, are partnering with the ISC to develop innovative programs that appeal to a wide range of audiences.

Each distinctive ISConnects program features presenters that include emerging and established artists, journalists and authors, academics and arts administrators, ISC Award winners and many other individuals with unique viewpoints on sculpture. Programs may include special access to exhibition tours, conversations with artists, panel discussions, and much more; each event is different from the next. ISConnects will also incorporate opportunities for online discussion and viewing of programs online.

"ISConnects is an opportunity for the ISC to partner with organizations who also want to explore sculpture in a new way. The intent was to develop accessible, interesting and innovative collaborative events that would appeal to a wide range of audiences. Programs like ISConnects are just one of the ways in which the ISC is striving to champion the creation and understanding of sculpture and its unique, vital contribution to society." said Johannah Hutchison, Executive Director of the International Sculpture Center.

Advanced registration for ISConnects programs are required and tickets can be purchased online through www.sculpture.org. For further information, please contact Julie Hain, by calling 609.689.1051, extension 314, or via email at julie@sculpture.org.

The International Sculpture Center (ISC) is a member-supported, nonprofit organization founded in 1960 to advance the creation and understanding of sculpture and its unique, vital contribution to society. Members include sculptors, collectors, patrons, architects, developers, journalists, curators, historians, critics, educators, foundries, galleries, and museums—anyone with an interest in and commitment to the field of sculpture. Please visit <http://www.sculpture.org/isconnects/> for further details.

###

International Sculpture Center, Publisher of Sculpture magazine,
19 Fairgrounds Rd., Suite B, Hamilton, NJ 08619-3450 USA
TEL 609.689.1051 FAX 609.689.1061 www.sculpture.org