

THE ISC'S 2010 STUDENT AWARDS CELEBRATION

The ISC held its annual Student Awards ceremony at Grounds For Sculpture in Hamilton, New Jersey, this past October, honoring the winners of the 2010 Outstanding Achievement in Contemporary Sculpture Award. The event coincided with the opening of the ISC Student Award exhibition at GFS, a traveling exhibition of work from each of the 20 winners.

ISC Executive Director Johannah Hutchison, who presided over the presentation, recognized the achievements, merit, and commitment of the students, their faculty sponsors, and the educational institutions that support them. The 2010 winners were selected from a pool of 445 international nominees representing 176 schools worldwide by a jury consisting of curator Rocío Aranda-Alvarado of El Museo del Barrio in New York, artist Oliver Herring, and educator Creighton Michael.

Grounds For Sculpture was the first of two venues to host the 2010 ISC Student Awards exhibition. After completing its three-month stay in New Jersey, the show traveled to its second and final stop at the Salt Lake Art Center in Utah, where it is on view through June 30. Since its establishment in 1994, the ISC Student Awards program has recognized young artists and encouraged their growth in the field of sculpture while spotlighting the faculty, universities, colleges, and art schools that support them. Through this initiative, as well as other varied resources, programs, and publications, the ISC continues to assist students, faculty, and participating institutions with their professional growth and development.
