Sponsorship opportunities are available starting at $200!

Since 1960, the International Sculpture Center has been devoted to providing the leading conference for contemporary sculpture and sculptors all over the world. ISC Conferences provide opportunities for working artists, arts professionals, educators, and students to gather, share information, exchange ideas, learn, and network with one another.

Supporting an ISC Conference makes this one-of-a-kind event more affordable for artists, art educators, students, and other members of the art community. We offer a variety of sponsorships considered to fit your interests, ensure maximum recognition for your investment, and support the sculpture community.

Our opportunities help you increase visibility before, during, and even after the Conference through placement in the conference program book, promotional materials, the ISC website, and advertisements in Sculpture magazine.

For more information on ways you can support sculptors and the sculpture community, contact us at events@sculpture.org.
